

The Description Of And Times The Mysterious Person Seen At Moran's Sliprails.

Seen By	Time
Arthur Brooking	7:45
Mrs. Margaret and John Carroll	8:30
Thomas Drew and Michael Donoghue	9:05
Florence Lowe	9:15

All the witnesses agreed that the person was a stranger to the district.

The person was described as being between 5ft. 7in. and 5ft 9in. in height, and medium to thick-set.

Some said he had a large moustache, and a very remarkable face.

Wore dark blue clothes.

Wore a coat or shirt and a dark, grey, soft felt slouch hat drawn over the face and had the brim pulled down all round.

Another witness said the person wore a coat, rather long, and came down in front.

The person's voice was low, and with a peculiar treble quality (a high, shrill voice).

The person's voice was different from any witness had heard before.

The person had a small parcel in the hand; it didn't shine, and witness could not see what it was.

One witness saw the person make a kind of stagger.

Moreover, it should be noted that, though it was a moonlight night, this person was not recognised by any of the local residents who passed him/her.

Why didn't the person at the rails care if he/she was seen if murder was intended?
